BLOSSOM-I CLASSROOM

WE'RE MOVING INTO MARCH WITH TRANSPORTATION

Hello Families!

This month the Blossom I classroom will focus our attention on learning themes incorporating transportation.

Through our learning and exploration of transportation we'll discuss and incorporate the differing types of transportation, the history and evolution of transportation, it's purposes and how it impacts our lives and much more.

As adults we know, understand, and sometimes even take for granted, how much transportation and varying modes of transportation intersect in our lives. In March, our littles will be begin the explore transportation and learn about how we can now move around the world because of it's innovation.

In March we'll be celebrate renowned children's author and artist, Dr. Seuss. March 4th through the 8th, we'll host a Dr. Seuss Spirit Week. Stay tuned for updates on how we'll incorporate Dr. Seuss' books and learning themes into the week.

On Monday, March 4th, we'll celebrate his birthday.

March 15th is St. Patrick's Day, and in annual tradition we'll go on the hunt for that tricky leprechaun.

As usual, its going to be an exciting mo
